Honokong, September 17TH, 1-85.

Now that Sir-Robert Harr has set at rest all speculation as to the Inspectorate General by returning to the post himself, a new question has arisen, to wit-who will succeed Sir HARRY PARKES as British Minister to China? There is at least as much doubt surrounding. this appointment as there was that of Sir ROBERT HART'S successor at the Customs. It is true the eligible members of the Diplomatic Service having any knowledge of China are few, but they occupy posts which they might not care to exchange for Peking, which is not a much coveted appointment. The Courier says that it is probable Sir ROBERT HART will eventually take up the appointment of British Minister, but this would Colonel STANLEY, the Secretary of State for seem to be mere conjecture, made without any authority. The supposition may turn he will be able to do anything with the two out correct, but on the face of it it seems unlikely. The office doubtless will not be filled soon, for the British Government will have some difficulty in finding a suitable incurbent for it. The Hon. F. R. PLUNKETT has very wisely declined to exchange Tokyo for Peking, having put his hand to the plough of Treaty revision and not being disposed to leave it unfinished. His Ex. the face, so that we may not be disappointed cellency is also deeply interested in Japan if failure attends the effort. and its people, is exceedingly popular at Tokyo, and has laboured earnestly to coment the friendship between Englan I and Japan, at 19 35 yesterd sy morning. which he has done much to strengther. by the uniform consideration he shown to the Japanese Ministry, the frank courtesy of his manner, and the lively interest he has displayed in all or in social and educational matters. Moreover, Jupan enjoys a healthy climate, while that of Peking is decidedly trying, and as a place of residence the Chinese to Tokyo, a matter of no small importance to a Minister with a family. It is not improbable, however, that the charge of the vacant Legation at Peking may be offered to the Hon. T. G. GROSVENOR, C.B., who, as | lb. and the limit of weight 7lb. Parcels are not former Chargé d'Affires and for many to exceed Sft. 6in. in length, or 6ft. in length years Secretary of Legation, is well qualified to hold the post. In another column we publish copy of a letter addressed by the Vice-Chairman of the Hongkong Chamber of Commerce to the Quarantine Regulations, asking His Excel-| 21 | lency the GOVERNOR to refer the whole correspondence on the subject to the Secretary of State for the Colonies. We have already emphatic terms, endorsing the views put forward by the Ohamber, whose arguments have never been met by the Government. It may be argued that unless Hongkong subjected vessels arriving from an infect. ed-port to quarantine it is pretty-certain that the Philippine Government would en-

The recent outbreak of sporadic cholera or choleraic diarrboss among the troops aided no doubt to deepen this objection, and had Sir GEORGE Bowns acted in opposition to the Executive Council and adopted the course proposed by business at this place, and at the moment there the Chamber of Commerce, representations would have been forwarded to the Admiralty prices ruling steadily in favour of buyers at the and War Office against his action. The appeal auctions, which, to-day, are the principal indices of the Chamber of Commerce, supported as it will be by the London Chumber, will be sure to receive the careful consideration of the Colonies, but it is very doubtful whether bottom has been touched, is it likely that much George, Downing-street, 10th August.—The Queen will be done beyond what may be required on has been graciously pleased to give directions for the characters, and filled them ably, Mr. Willard's following promotion in the Most Distinguished Order. service departments against him. second time." The greatest weakness of Tuesday night's performance lay in the fact that there was no good part for Miss Melville to take. The female characters are all unimportant, and afford very little scope for a clever artiste like this lady. The Arakan News says :- "It is beginning to Miss Melville's great abilities have thus far made her the life and soul of every piece that the company has produced here, and Fiametti being a poor part, she was unable to infuse that life and spirit into it which made Olivette" so successful on Saturday night.

As usual the piece was well placed on the stage, the second scene. Lambertuccio's olive garden, being particularly effective. There was also a good array of coopers, citizens, &c. The first not wont very slowly; there was absolutely nothing in it to amuse, except a little fun with Lambertuccio and Lotteringhi, and though Mr. Willard and Mr. Pagestruggled very hard all through to make these characters amusing to the audience, they only succeeded in this act in arousing a little languid laughter, most of which was awarded to The London Gazette contains the subjoined a local joke of Mr. Willard's which we foncy the street on Tuesday night, and he was fined wreck. made its first appearance here in the burlesque half a dollar. "Aladdin." The best item in the act was Fiametta's (Miss Melville's) song, "Love is like a flower." which is an air of considerable sweet. ness, and being given with much taste and feeling, was encored. Signor Verdi was apparently suffering from a cold, and during this act he house the defendant followed him, threw lime sang somewhat flat, but improved later on. The at his eyes, and struck him with an iron bar. chorus of citizens, when destroying Boccaccio's writings, went very well, and was applauded. The second act was decidedly livelier, the kiss-

The trio between Fiametta, Peronella and Isabella, reading their love epistles, The scene between Lotteringhi (Mr. Page) and his flighty wife, Isabella (Miss Vernie), had also man some broad fun about it.

The last act was a very short one, and seemed to bring the play to a very abrupt termination. There was one very good bit in it, however, namely, the song "We're parted yet," which was company, which stood at 124 before it obtained probably the best piece of composition in the whole opera. Signor Verdi rendered it in admirable style and he was loudly encored. Signor Verdi, as Boccaccio, had the only char acter of any individual importance at all. It was not, however, one which particularly suited him but on the whole he gave a fair representation of it. Mr. R. de Bruze as Leonato, and Mr. Walshe Prince Pietro had but little to do. and no opportunity for displaying either vocal or histrionic powers, Messrs, Saunders, Taylor, and Alleyne had only trifling parts to fill as Scalze Checco, and the Duke's Major-Domo respectively. but the last named showed some vocal ability on the solitary occasion he had a chance of display ing it. Mr. Page as Lotteringhi, and Mr personation in particular doing more to infuse life into the performance than that of any of Miss Melville, as we have said, had but a slender opportunity of displaying her powers as Fiametta, but she made the most of the character.

Miss Beresford noted exceedingly well in the part of Isabella, the wife of the cooper, Lotteringhi. Miss Vernie was seen to more advantage operas. She made up extremely well as Peronella, Lambertuccio's wife, and her personation To-night the company will perform "Giroffe

TIENTSIN.

29th August. Mr. Pethick yesterday took to Li Hung-chang on behalf of Messrs. Eussell & Co. a model toy railroad, carriages, rails, &c., &c., which eclipses that handed last year by Messrs. E. Meyer & Co. to Prince Chun.

Mr. P. Tanner, 4th class Assistant of the Customs here, returned vesterday from Peking. where he had gone, as his friends say, to get the Chinese doctors there to fix his teeth, called upon Li Hung-chang to day, reported the result of the operation he underwent while at Peking, and explained the prospects of it. From now you will see Russian gentlemen prefer Chinese doctors to the reverend dentists we have here. It is also said that Mr. B. Brannan called vesterday on Li Hung-chang for the purpose of telling him that no Secret Treaty between Russia and Korea exists. But the Chinese begin to believe that now there exists a Secret Treaty between Russia and Korea, and there is a secret that H.B.M. Envoy Extraordinary, &c., &c., embodied in one and the same department at Peking H.I.C.M. Customs and the Legation; such is the Chinese gossip. Do you believe it?

The Anglo-Chinese Bank has come to life

again, under the name of Chun Hwa; Li Hungchang has been busy about this for the last few days, because it is said that the prospect of the Comptoir d'Escompte de Paris moving up is fading away. This bank, the Chuu Hwa, is to start with a capital of 5 million taels, receive and pay and transact all business for H.I.C. 31st August.

H. E. Li. Commander-in-Chief of the Chefoo and Tungchow troops, who is staying at the C. M.S.N. Co.'s premises, was entertained there at dinner by Mr. Tsen Lai-sun, H.E. Li Hungchang's interpreter; the guests also invited were Wn Ta-ching, the Customs Taotai, the Tientsin Taotai, and Mr. Ng Choy. Li Feng-pao leaves for Peking on the 3rd

The Hon. Wm. Keswick left for the Kai Ping mines. Mr. H. M. Becher is still here. To-day it is freely reported about an Anglo-Chinese Bank, a Japanese Chinese Bank, a Franco-Chinese Bank: no doubt a Russo-Chinese Bank will come next on the board. What lucky fellows are the Chinese! If they hint, everybody is ready to oblige.
